"This is a fresh approach and a much-needed resource for today's parents."

-Dr. John DeGarmo, leading expert in foster care and parenting, Founder of the Foster Care Institute.

"This book teaches caregivers how to develop children's brains and bonds with a collection of no-tech physical games and creative play strategies.

It includes explanations for children's behaviors, especially those children who have experienced neglect, abuse and trauma."

-From the publisher

"It is a great book for getting children off their bottoms and playing with purpose -- live, face-to-face, with others."
